Wendell Phillips addressed the Twenty eighth Congregational Society, in Music Hail, this after noon, on the craits. He doctared himself to be a disunion man, and was gind to see South Carolina and other Siave States had practically initiated the disunion movement. He hoped that all the Siave States would have the Union, and not stand noon the order of their going," but go at once. He denounced the compromise spirit manifested by Mr Soward and Charles Francis Adams, with much severity of impusage, and there was an occasional stamping of fest and hissing, but no outbreak.

Mr. Phillips was excerted home by a few police men, and a great crowd rashing about him. The waddence in the healt was composed mainly of men, and a great crowd rushing about him. The addence in the hall was composed mainly of those regularly attending service there.

Mr. Grow-The Republicans will vote On motion of Mr. Marris, the Committee

The report of the Committee of Thirty-three came up, and Mr. Corwin addressed

Mr. Corwin said the withdrawal of a State does not necessarily make the enforcement of the laws subversive of peace, and showed that personal liberty bills do not affect the rights of the South, arguing that laws for re capture depend on the Federal Courts, such laws having been approved by the Supreme Court, render opposing State laws null. Southern newspapers and craters have magnified a hundred times, im-ginary dangers apprehended from the Republican Administration. He showed the fears of amendment to the Constitution to the detriment of the South by the Republicans were groundless, saying twelve more free States were necessary to furnish the requisite votes for such an end.

The Committee, as an amendment that any change relative to slavery be dependent on the action of every State, asking what more was demanded. He showed the condition of a large portion of the Territories which precluded slavery. Slavery is all ready established in New Mexico. Why not admit her at once, thus banishing forever this freshrand? If the difficulties are not removed he would not attempt to lift the curtain from the future and the consequences which may follow.

Mr. Clay also read the withdrawal of the Alabama Senators.

Mr. Clay charged the Republicans as being the authors of the trouble which caused deceasion, and the Republican platform is declared a declaration of war against the lives and institutions of the South.

Mr. Fixpatrick endorsed his colleague's remarks.

Mr. Davis stated that the separation of Mississippi terminated his functions here. In parting, he said he felt no hostility to ward any Senator, and hoped that relations between them might be peaceful, though we must part. If he had offended he would now offer an apology an iall reparation for such offense.
